Windsor continues its leadership role in the Bradley Development League, a consortium made up of East Granby, Suffield, Windsor and Windsor Locks, the towns surrounding Bradley International Airport. The League actively markets the airport and the region for economic development purposes.

The Windsor Police Department also partners with north central and metro area departments in a Traffic Enforcement Collaboration. This is particularly effective for holiday speeding enforcement and DUI checkpoints as well as seatbelt stops and other road safety checkpoints.

Windsor's police department has joined forces with the Bloomfield, Windsor Locks, Granby, Simsbury, Farmington, Avon, Simsbury, and Canton police departments in the North Central Emergency Services (SWAT) Team that responds to emergencies and works to reduce violence.

Windsor has joined forces with 14 other Connecticut Municipalities and Boards of Education in the Connecticut Public Sector Purchasing Coalition to achieve savings when purchasing employee benefits such as prescription drugs.

Windsor continues to play an important role in Mass Dispensing Area #31, the regional bioterrorism response organization that includes Windsor and South Windsor.

The Windsor Public Schools have been able to reduce the cost of heating oil through its membership in the Cooperative Purchasing Consortium. Our schools have also been able to solicit bids and contract for electricity generation through the Connecticut School Consortium.

The Windsor Public Library negotiates discount pricing for books, databases, library supplies as well as a directory and discount pricing for program performers through the Connecticut Library Consortium.

The Windsor Public Library is provided with CEN internet connection free of charge through the State of Connecticut.

As members of Library Connection patrons have access to materials in 28 local libraries. They can place a hold on an item from one of the participating libraries and it will be shipped to Windsor for pick-up and return.

The State of Connecticut's Connecticard system means that patrons who are issued a card in Windsor can use that card anywhere in the state. They can also return those items to any other library in the state as Connecticard retrieves and delivers those items to the owning libraries.

Windsor has taken advantage of the purchasing power of both the State of Connecticut and the Capitol Region Council of Governments in the procurement of gasoline, diesel fuel, natural gas, asphalt, catch basin cleaning, materials for snow plowing and pavement striping, software for the Town Clerk's office, office computers and even vehicles such as dump trucks and hybrid automobiles.
